Save Straiton for Scotland

Save Straiton for Scotland is a campaign set up in response to the unprecedented threat of five colossal wind farm developments around the tiny conservation village of Straiton in South Ayrshire.

We, the undersigned, are opposed to the construction of enormous wind turbines in one of Scotland's most beautiful places. We believe that Straiton is a precious amenity for all of Scotland - as the meeting place of the Galloway Forest, Dark Sky Park and Unesco Biosphere - with stunning scenery, rich heritage and history and abundant wildlife it is a resource for the people of Ayrshire and an important hub for tourism. We are against the siting of huge industrial turbines so close to this community, when their impact on health is in question and their impact on quality of life is utterly ruinous. We are resolved that the proposals will bring no economic or ecological benefit to Scotland and must be rejected.
